

WBCSD Net-Zero Dialogues

Business driving long-term climate action to net-zero

WBCSD will convene a high-level business climate action event on the side-lines of COP25 where companies and partners will present their strategies to reach Net-Zero emissions aligned with the 1.5°C objective of the Paris Agreement.

This major business event will showcase innovative business models and breakthrough technologies aimed at driving systems transformation with focus on energy systems transformation, and the opportunities these are creating in key markets.

It will emphasize the need for businesses and governments to work together towards raised climate action, to enhance national commitments and the key challenges and barriers that industry needs to overcome to unlock ambitious climate action at scale.
